School Bus

The bus arrived on time at Salem's house

Hey you new kid, open the window beside you

But this annoys me. Besides, the temperature of the bus is adequate, and you don't need to open the windows

You missed my point... I don't want you to open for fresh air, I need to say Hi to my friend. Hey! ... How are you?

Suddenly the bus driver had to press on the brakes, so the naughty boy falls in the bus between the seats

Unexplained inconvenience

I want you to install a loud horn in my car that causes others to panic and get away from me as quickly as possible

He went out with his friends who all drive their cars irresponsibly

After Woodpecker installed the new horn in his car, he started using it in a very annoying way to the other road users

Where are you son?

Yes, I am not feeling well, and I need you to come and take me to the hospital

With my friends... Do you need something?

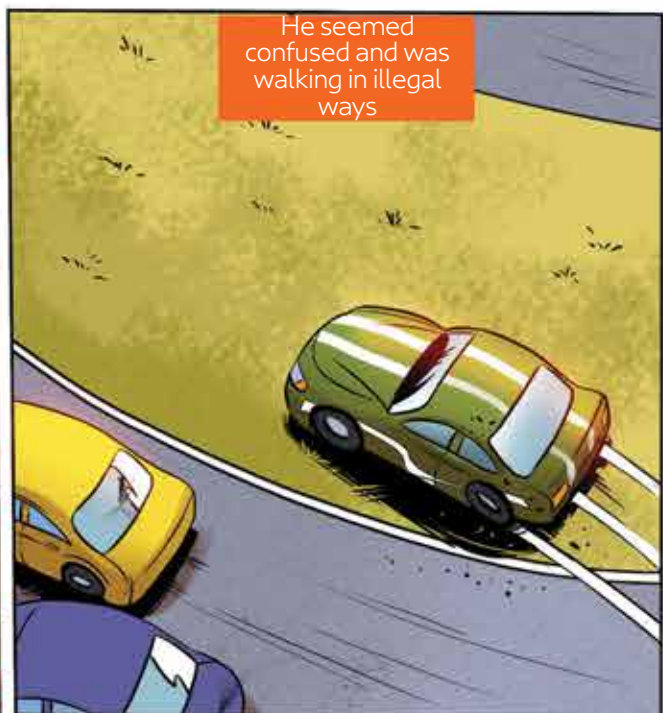

Okay Mom... I will come now

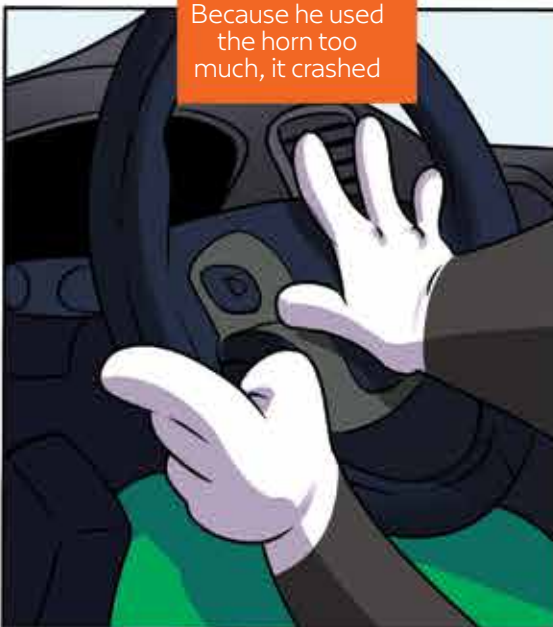

Woodpecker tried to go back home quickly but the road was crowded

He seemed confused and was walking in illegal ways

Because he used the horn too much, it crashed

While he was walking in a bystreet, a car suddenly came out in front of him and he wanted to press on the horn but no avail... unfortunately when he needed it, it didn't help him

Sorry Mom... Call the ambulance to take you to the hospital, I can't come right now

Recycling Signs

What about the type of plastic used for sandwich packaging, do you know it, Khadija?

Mmmm, I see the label with the number 4 in it but I don't know what that means

It means that it is made of LDPE low density polyethylene and used in plastic bags as well as the cling film in which we wrap baked goods. It is safe and does not cause chemicals to transfer to foods at normal temperatures

Is it the same material used for making garbage plastic bags?

Yes, the same material. It is also used for making baskets of laundry and sauce packages, such as ketchup, mayonnaise, and others

Wow Alia! The signs of recycling are really small, but with big meaning
