Eid Al-Fitr

Hello Dear friends..

Happy Eid al-Fitr all. It is also called (Prize Day) as an award for fasting an entire month; the blessed month of Ramadan, as Muslims celebrates on the morning of Eid al-Fitr that they have completed the worship of the Holy Month, from fasting, praying, and performing zakat al-Fitr, to the fullest extent. But this year, Ramadan comes to us alone without gathering with our (loved ones), so that each of us can pray for the whole month with his family members only. Let us make sure to establish its nights by mentioning and exerting themselves, reading the Qur'an, and patience with hunger and thirst, with all their fatigue and hardship, so that Eid Al-Fitr is a prize for us.

We get used to wake up every Eid with the minarets everywhere calling with takbeers, which fill the world with magic, so the rituals of Eid Al Fitr begin going to the prayer and we have dressed our most beautiful clothes, we share with the crowd of worshipers the performance of prayers. But this year comes other than what we are used to in silence and quiet like the nights of Ramadan, without gatherings celebrations, in line with the laws of the country that urge us to commit to our homes this period, so that this phase can pass safely.

Dear God, make our coming days as beautiful as we are used to, and we ask you with your mercy to return us a happy Ramadan and Eid al-Fitr that brings joy, health and wellness to us and the whole world.

Eid Fitr Mubarak

Scenario: Lolwa Thani

What a pleasant smell! This is not the usual smell of oud and incense in our home

It is the flower bouquet that my mom brought especially for Eid

Very nice... But where is the delicious feast of Eid?! I am starving

Give me five minutes and everything will be ready

OMG, you are talking about flowers and food, but where is my Idiyya? *(money gift given to children during Eid)

Do you want to take Idiyya from all of us?

Of course, and you are the first

My son, according to customs and traditions, the head of the family offers Idiyya to everyone, especially the little ones, and I am glad to give it to you first

Thank you Dad. Eid Mubarak!

What about us?

Here you go, take the Idiyya its from your Dad

Distance Learning

It has been decided to suspend schools and start the process of distance learning for sterilization campaign for schools, transportation and parks to prevent viruses

Do you mean that we must stay home?

Yes ... and this is for our safety and to prevent the spread of viruses

In the next day...

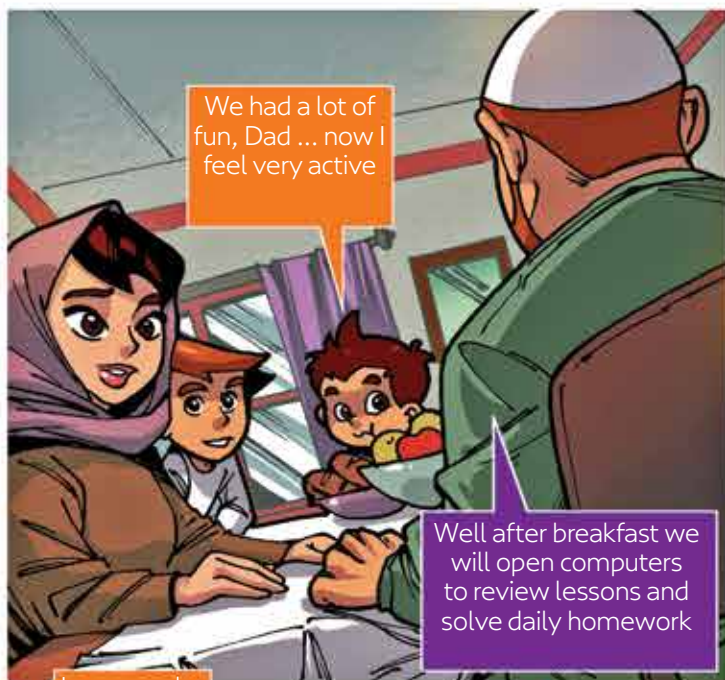

But how will we spend all this time at home?

I have a program that will make us enjoy and invest this time in useful things

Let's start kids, we will spend a full hour of exercise

We had a lot of fun, Dad ... now I feel very active

Well after breakfast we will open computers and solve daily homework

I have an opportunity to read the series of Explanation of the Prophetic Hadith

And I will read stories and adventures

What are you searching for in the bookshelf my dear?

I am searching for a book to teach Chinese

Great. A great idea

Boys also found time to practice their hobbies and talents they love

How was your day, boys?

The family enjoyed spending beautiful times with warmth and love.

Well spend Dad, it passed quickly because of the many work and activities we did

Thanks to your ideas my dear father

Heat Stroke

Senario: Eman Hosny

In the previous issue ...

The camp faced a Tornado, as usual Hammoud and Abboud did not listen to the advice of Super Nader. But because of his superpowers, he managed to rescue them and return them safely to the camp ...

Nader took the boys to discover the area around the camp, and after they had finished the tour on their way back, some signs of stress began to be seen on some of the boys

Come on Boys

Hammoud suddenly fell to the ground and Nader quickly ran to him

Oh My God! What happened to him?

Most likely he suffered a Heat stroke, because despite his high temperature, there is no sweat and his skin is very dry

What are we going to do now?

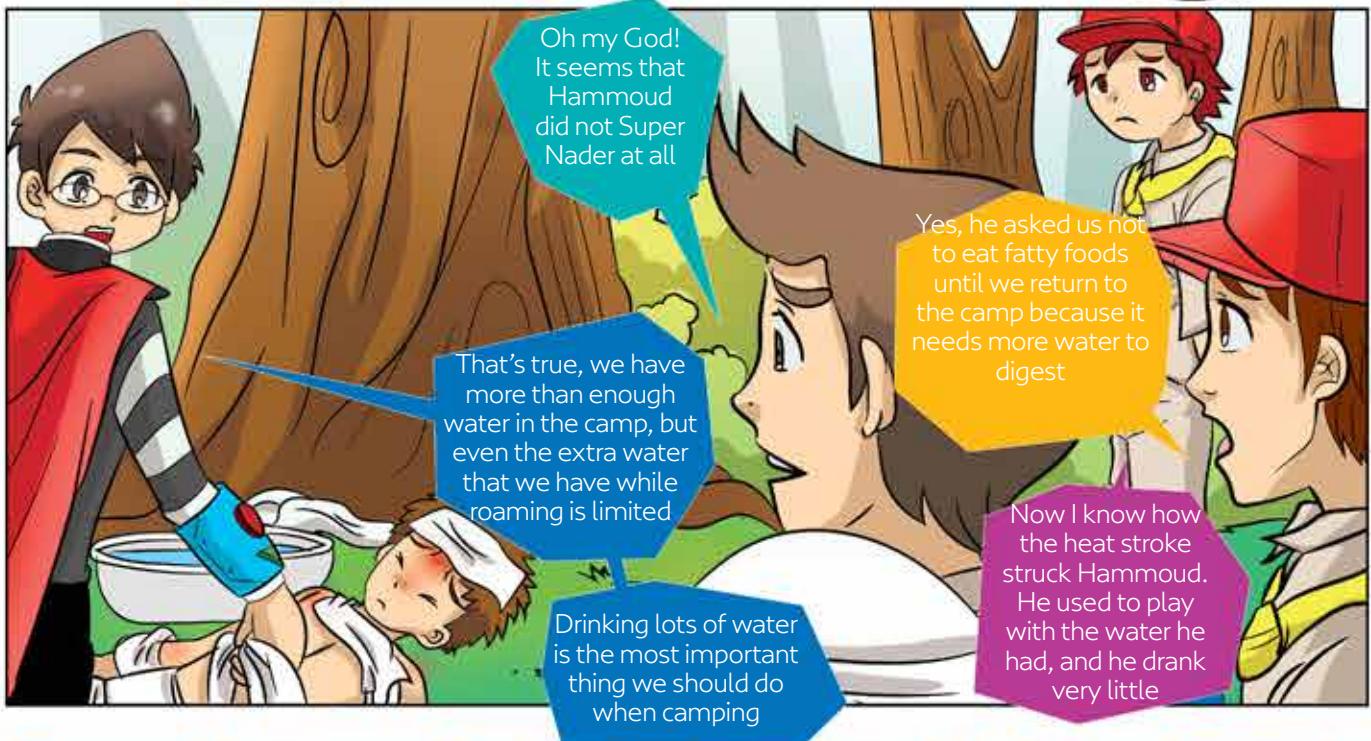

Malek, bring the portable fan and point it to Hammoud, and I'll take off any unnecessary clothes

And you, Abboud, bring extra water to make cold compresses for Hammoud

Remember to put it on his armpits, groin, neck and back.

Oh! He is having a fever

Recycling Glass

Senario : Eman Hosny

Illustrations: Shaimaa Ibrahim Gamil

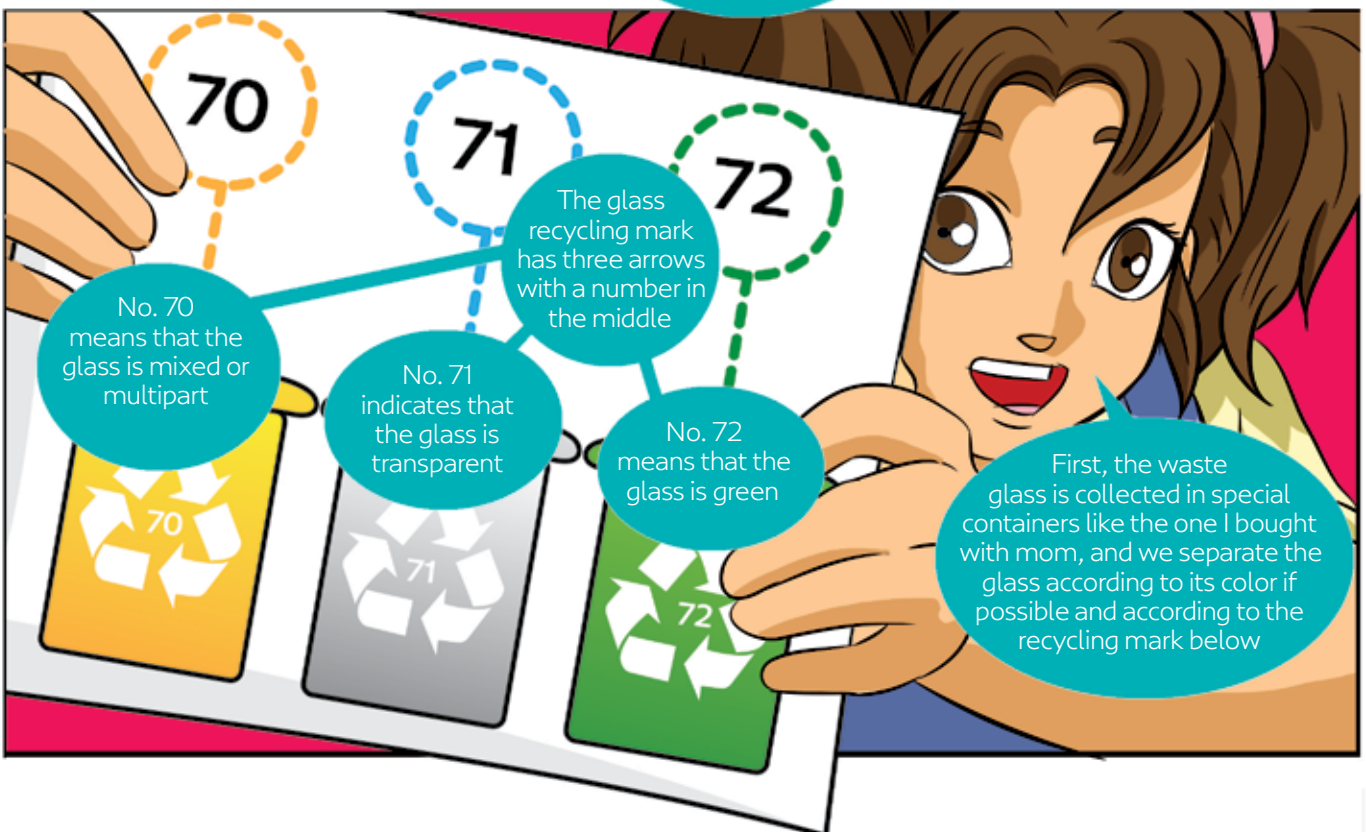

I asked Mom to help me by buying a recycling bin

I collected the glass waste in our house and now I am putting it in so that the garbage worker can sort it and include it for recycling programs

Yes, Dad. The glass recycling process follows several steps:

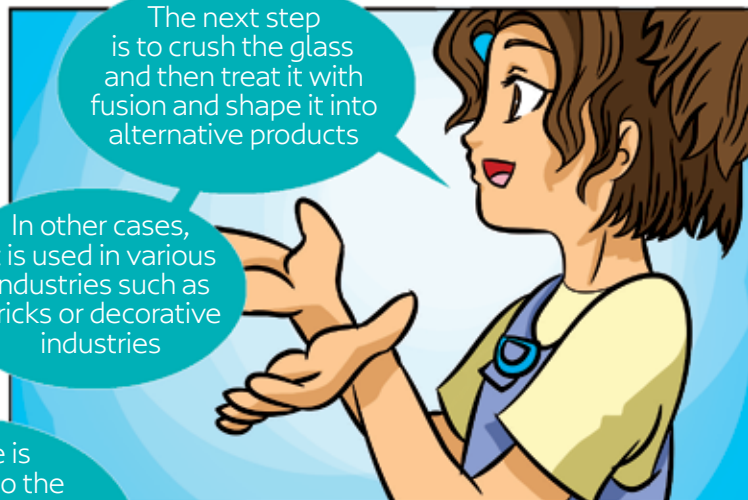

What is the use of these recycling marks?

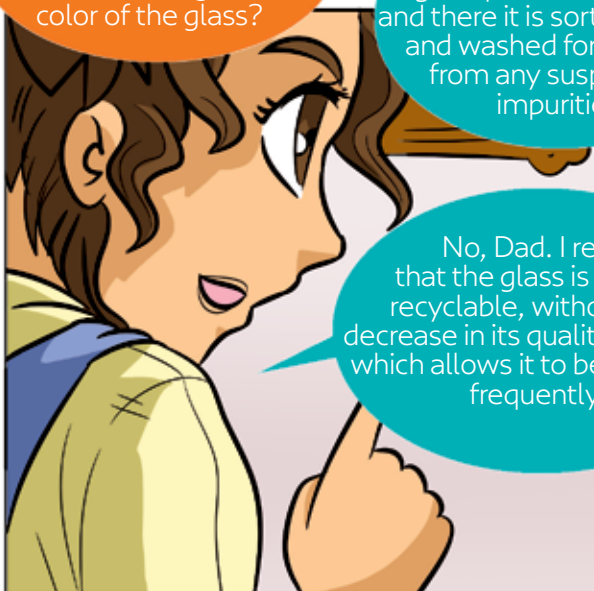

Many waste recycling companies collect glass based on color because it retains its color after recycling

Good information. But what happens if the consumer cannot sort the waste according to the color of the glass?

The next step is to crush the glass and then treat it with fusion and shape it into alternative products

In other cases, it is used in various industries such as bricks or decorative industries

The waste is transported to the glass processing plants and there it is sorted by color and washed for cleaning from any suspended impurities

No, Dad. I read that the glass is 100% recyclable, without any decrease in its quality or purity, which allows it to be recycled frequently

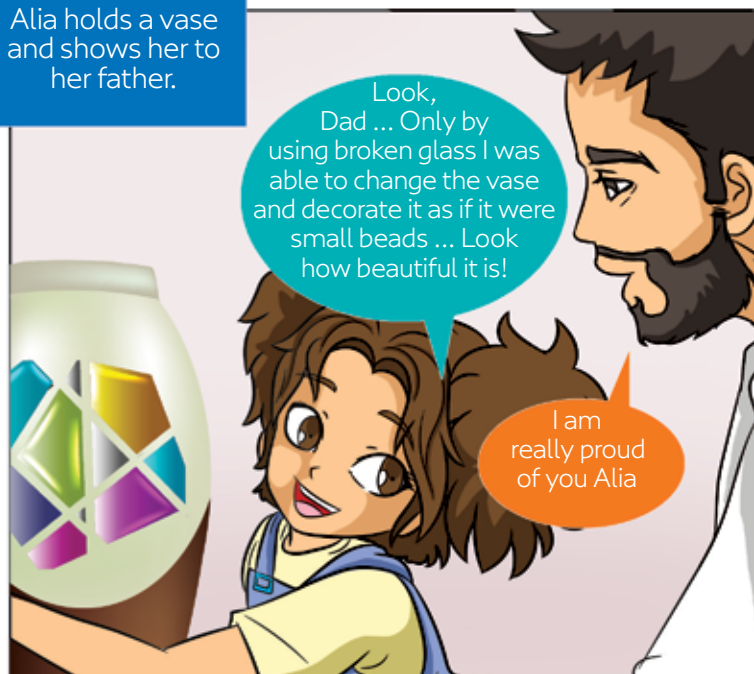

Really Alia! Does this affect its quality?

I am going to show you, Dad, how I recycled some broken glass and used it to decorate a small vase

Alia holds a vase and shows her to her father.

Look, Dad ... Only by using broken glass I was able to change the vase and decorate it as if it were small beads ... Look how beautiful it is!

I am really proud of you Alia

RTA Services Useful Applications (Public Transport Services)

Hello my dear friends ... We are completing today a series of RTA applications and in this episode, we will talk about the application of (Public Transport Service)

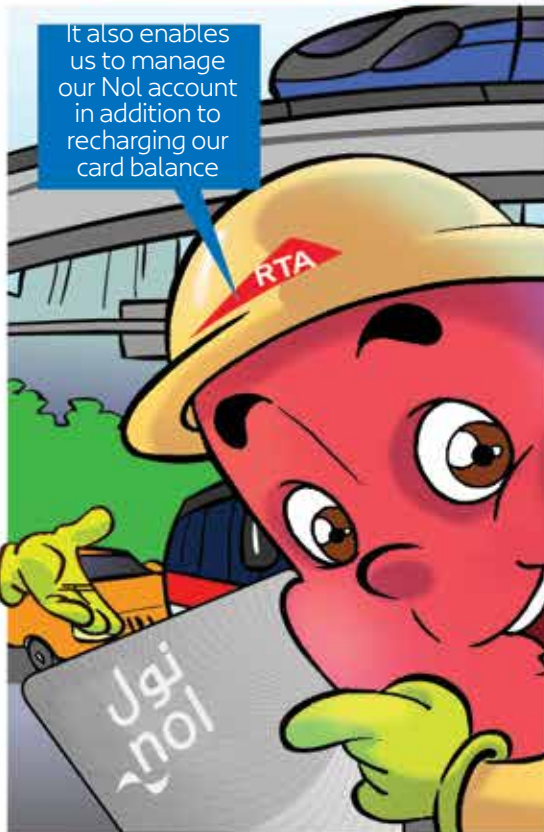

This app is intended for daily trips via public transport in Dubai

Trips are made easier with smart public transportation because it is a practical application that helps to better plan daily trips

It also enables us to manage our Nol account in addition to recharging our card balance

All the applications of RTA in Dubai are smart and useful ... Stay tuned for the next episode, God willing

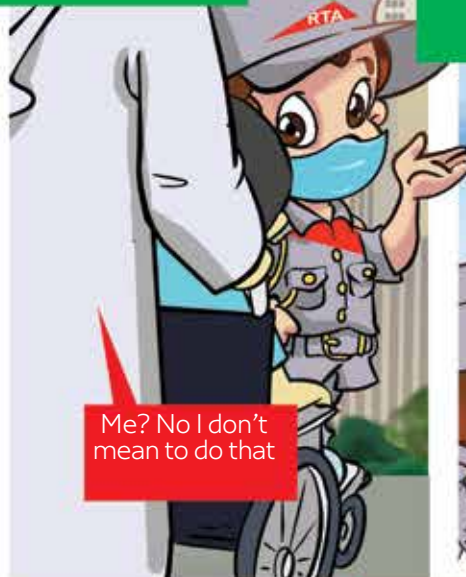

Pedestrian crossing areas

Scenario: Loulwa Thani

Sir ... you have just crossed a major street and put your life, the life of your child and others at risk

I know you do not mean to harm yourself or others, but it is safer to use pedestrian crossings like bridges and zebra crossings

Please use it on your way back and abide by the traffic rules to avoid any violations, especially traffic violations of crossing from undesignated areas, which equals 400 dirhams

Packed Chicken Tenders

My friends today I will present to you a very delicious dish that is Packed chicken tenders in the oven and all we need is: 3 chicken breasts, flour, two eggs, yogurt, cub of Corn Flakes, chicken spices, salt and pepper, onion powder

Chop chicken breasts in strips and season with yogurt, chicken spices, pepper, onion powder and salt

Put the chicken pieces in the refrigerator for at least an hour

Chop the corn flakes, then add salt and pepper to it, then beat the eggs in a separate bowl

Cover the chicken pieces with flour, dip them with eggs, and cover them with corn flakes

Then put the chicken pieces in the oven to be delicious, as you can see ... Enjoy!
